

SONG SAA
PRIVATE ISLAND

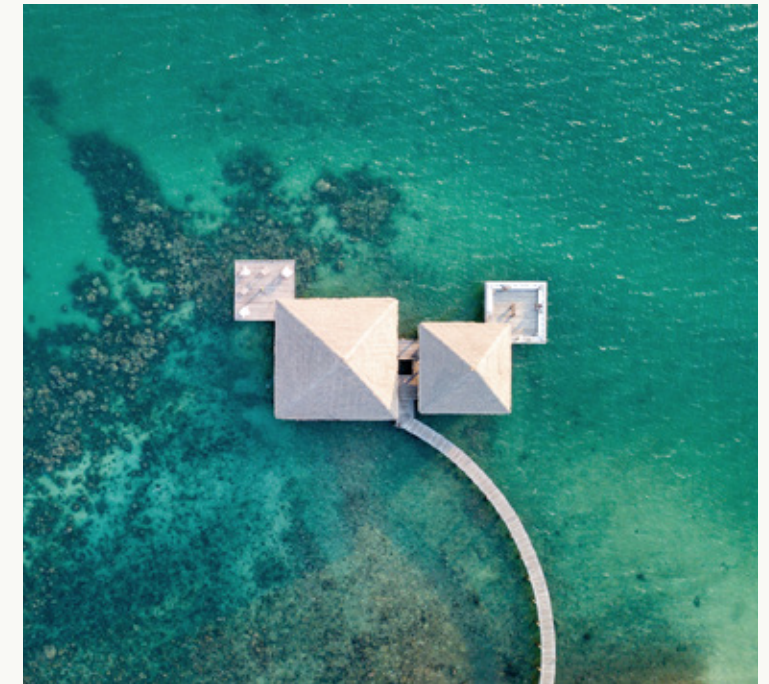

ISLAND FACT SHEET

Our female-founded private island is where lovers of soulful luxury reconnect with nature and themselves.

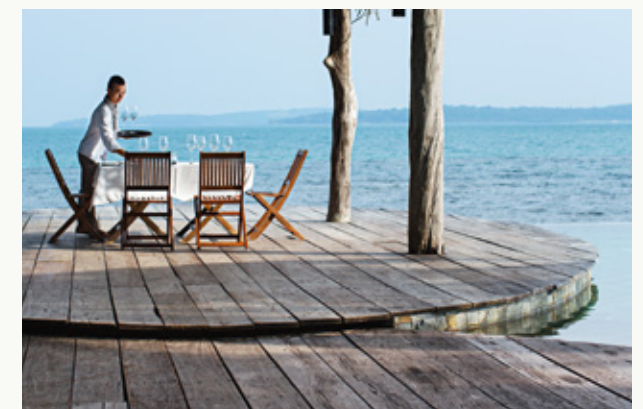

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Song Saa is an independent sanctuary combining world-class facilities with the heartfelt hospitality found in Cambodian homes. Our guiding principle is care of self, the collective and the environment.

We believe the wellbeing of our guests is inseparable from that of our neighbouring communities and Cambodia's beautiful Koh Rong archipelago.

Whether receiving a Buddhist blessing in our jungle spa, meditating in the salt room or foraging for endemic plants, guests are invited to reconnect with the real spirit of Cambodia – and the wild that lies within us all.

OUR ORIGIN STORY

Our tale begins in 2006 exploring remote islands off Cambodia’s coast, on an old fishing boat, sleeping beneath the stars. After stopping alongside a reef in rapid decline, its shores covered in rubbish – an extraordinary journey began.

Having fallen in love with Song Saa’s serenity, our founder Melita Koulmandas was determined to restore its coral-rich waters and virgin beaches.

Since then, we’ve collaborated with local communities on numerous projects including the founding of Cambodia’s first marine-protected area and the first waste management initiative in the Koh Rong archipelago. The resort opened in 2012, not only to sustain the ongoing work of the Song Saa Foundation, but also to invite like-minded wanderers to become part of the island’s journey - as well as that of the wider Koh Rong ecosystem.

OUR IMPACT

At Song Saa, we see ourselves as stewards of two formerly degraded islands, as well as the communities and environments of the wider Koh Rong Archipelago. Regeneration is our calling - and reason for being.

Between 2005 and 2007 we worked with the local community to establish Cambodia’s first Marine Protected Area and pioneered the first Solid Waste Management (SWM) Centre in the Archipelago.

From 2013, we gathered our work in the areas of water, people, land and climate action under the umbrella of the Song Saa Foundation.

Our hotel opened in 2012 and achieved B Corp status in 2023. Donations from guests make up 12% of the foundation’s funding.

Each member of the hotel team volunteers four hours per month, contributing an average of 6,000 hours to the wellbeing of the Koh Rong Archipelago.

OUR LOCATION

A collection of largely uninhabited islands adrift in the Gulf of Thailand, the Koh Rong archipelago is the stuff from which tropical fantasies are weaved. Although it's only 45-minutes from Sihanoukville by boat, it offers a lifestyle defined by the languid rhythms of salt and sun.

Guests are invited to immerse themselves in this extraordinary landscape through our leisure program, which has been thoughtfully curated alongside our resident marine biologists and conservationists. It's the level of conscious detail combined with our culture of care that makes our offering so unique.

YOUR JOURNEY

The nearest airport is Sihanoukville International Airport (KOS), located about a 25-minute drive away from the port.

If you're traveling from Siem Reap International Airport (REP) to Sihanoukville International Airport (KOS), the flight takes approximately 45 minutes. Alternatively, you can drive from Phnom Penh to Sihanoukville Port in around 2.5 hours via the Expressway.

OUR VILLAS

Handbuilt from reclaimed timber and framing extraordinary ocean vistas, our villas are co-created with nature. Each offers interiors lovingly designed by our founder Melita to incorporate sustainable materials such as driftwood, naturally cooling thatch and upcycled oil drums.

Each of the 24 villas features expansive terraces with breathtaking views, infinity pools, sunken bathtubs and open-air showers. Biophilic design and sustainable materials create the impression they have sprung organically from the jungle. As both the architect and interior designer, Melita embraces an earthy, innovative aesthetic that celebrates repurposed materials. Every serene space invites you to remember that you are nature.

OUR WELLBEING PROGRAM

Our radically raw wellbeing centre is scattered across the untamed island of Koh Bong as well as the main island, Koh Ouen’s, most tranquil corners. Cross the footbridge over the marine reserve and you’ll be immersed in a sanctuary within a sanctuary, a jungle-clad wonderland where nature leads the way to physical and spiritual healing. Saraan means ‘love’ in the Khmer dialect and the Buddhist concept of metta – loving-kindness towards the self, collective and the environment – is the lodestar that guides our offerings.

We draw on ancient spiritual practices, Indigenous healing techniques and the latest technological breakthroughs to inform our approach to everything from nutrition to sleep.

Thanks to the use of natural materials our wellness centre has minimal footprint on the land, while the products used in our treatments are either made in house (minimising packaging and transport costs) or sourced from skilled community artisans.
